COMMERCIAL INTELLIGENCE

TUESDAY EVENING, DEC. 2.

MONEY in London seems just the turn easier again, rates of discount in the open market being quoted ½ lower, or 4¼ per cent. per annum. On the Stock Exchange, however, the movement does not seem to have had appreciable effect, Consols being quoted at 99⅛ ex-div.; the 3½ per cent. Indian sterling loan ¼ lower at 103⅜; 4 per cent. Rupee Paper ¼ higher at 79⅜.

In the London General Produce markets, Linseed and Rapeseed are unchanged. Wheat is reported firm, but quotations are unaltered except for No. 1 Club, which is 1s., and No. 2 Club, which is 6d., per quarter higher to arrive. The London Skin Sales opened yesterday with 800,000 Goat and 550,000 Sheep skins offered. Goat skins are dull, fair to good qualities being 1d. per lb. lower.

The Liverpool Cotton marked yesterday closed dull, with sales of only 8,000 bales, including 1,500 Surats. Spot prices are unchanged, but Americans to arrive are 1-32d. to 3-64d. per lb. lower. In New York ready Mid-Uplands are unaltered, but futures are 8 points higher at 10·69 for March, 10·82 cent per lb. for April. The receipts continue heavy, the following being the comparison to date with the two previous seasons :—

	1884.	1883.	1882.
Two days' receipts.....	53,000	50,000	51,000
Three days' do.....	104,000	84,000	82,000
Total since 1st Sept.....	2,307,000	2,404,000	2,504,000

The tone of our Cotton market here to-day has been firm but not active. With the dulness which existed in Liverpool, buyers have been unable to offer better prices, whilst sellers, strengthened by the improvement in New York futures, show continued if not increased firmness. In new Cotton there has been no business of any importance done, and we still quote :—

Good Broach, March dely.	Rs.	219
,, Omra ,, ,, ...	,,	192
,, Dhollera, April ,, ...	,,	192
,, Bengal, January ,, ...	,,	155

WHEAT tends easier owing to hardening freights, and No. 1 White Pessy is now quoted at Rs. 23-8 to Rs. 24 per candy, sellers.

LINSEED is pretty steady at Rs. 6-4 to Rs. 6-5 per cwt. ready.

FREIGHTS are firmer, with a stronger inquiry. A considerable business has been done to-day, £1-1-3 having been paid for Hull this month and for Marseilles next month, 23s. 9d. for Antwerp for February, and 25s. for April, May, and June. For Liverpool ready 17s. 6d. is asked for Wheat, 20s. for Measurement. For the Adriatic ports 30s. was done by the liners this month in the forenoon, but 32s. 6d. was asked later. The s.s. Scindiah is reported to have engaged a large line for Trieste and Venice, this month's loading, at 26s. 3d.

In IMPORTS there is nothing fresh to notice, Goods are quiet, with barely an average business passing. Coals are dull but firm, there being still nothing on the way for the market.

EXCHANGE has ruled very quiet throughout. Neither here nor in Calcutta has there been any change in rates, and the probability is no movement will take place until the result of to-morrow's biddings for Council drafts becomes known. Quotations are :—

Bank Bills on demand		Is. 7 5-32d. per rupee
do. Telegraphic		Is. 7 3-32d. ,,
do 3 Months' sight		Is. 7 11 32d. ,,
Credits 3 ,, ,, ...		Is 7 15-32d. ,,
Francs 3 ,, ,, ...		2·05¼ ,,

GOVERNMENT PAPER remains quiet but firm. Fours we quote at Rs. 99 15-16, Fours-and-a-half at Rs. 102¼.

SHARES.—Spinning Mills are dull and mostly Rs. 5 to Rs. 10 lower. Press shares are steady. Bombay-Burmah Trading are Rs. 100 lower again at Rs. 4,850.

DEFECTIVE OR FAILING SIGHT.

THE sense of sight is so valuable that the importance of perfect and carefully adjusted spectacles can scarcely be over.....; although the wearing of single eye-glasses should be strictly avoided, we have the highest medical authority, confirmed by daily experience, that imperfect glasses, together with the haphazard plan of selection generally employed, are frequent causes of irremediable injury to the sight; and as no present economy can compensate for such a loss, it behoves all to be cautious how they are tempted to use the common pebble or glass spectacles now so generally sold.

For the guidance of those who are using pebble spectacles, it may be stated that when the pebbles are cut against the grain, and not polished on the principle which has been universally declared the most appropriate based on scientific research, they are injurious to the sight.

Unadvisable as the unnecessary wearing of spectacles undoubtedly is, the common notion that their use should be postponed to the utmost is proved beyond dispute to be a grave mistake.

Being in possession of all the optical instruments taken over by us from Dr. A. Menist, we are not only in a position to suit the eye sight to perfection, but to supply different accommodations for each eye which so frequently are needed.

The Bombay Gazette

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 3, 1884.

THE result of the appeal to the House of Lords in the matter of "Government from the Hills" will not please the good people in Madras who sent a petition, complaining of the annual transfer of Government to the hills during a certain period in the year. The petitioners allowed themselves to become unconsciously the catspaws of certain malcontents in Calcutta who felt it to be a personal grievance that a Viceroy should be out of ear-shot at Simla, while they were saying disagreeable things of him in the Bengal capital. The latest, and what will probably prove the last agitation on this question, had its true point of origin in Calcutta, and not in Madras. Nevertheless the Madrassees had some reason for feeling very genuinely annoyed and alarmed at the turn things were taking in respect to them and their city. There are no manufactures in Madras, and not much trade. There is no river like the Hooghli, and no great harbour like that of Bombay. If the city were not a capital it would be nothing. Madras does not pretend to love Mr. Grant Duff : indeed, there is no record of its ever having loved anybody much ; but it felt that without him or some other Governor on the spot it could not hope to get on. In 1869 the then Governor seems to have entered into a solemn league and covenant with his conscience and with Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India, that if he were permitted to go with his Members of Council and official etceteras to the hills for three months in the year, he would live for the other nine in Madras and make the best of it. This agreement was acted upon for three or four years, and all parties professed to be satisfied. But when Lord Hobart was coming out, he made it a condition that he was to be allowed to remain on the hills for six months if he liked. The Duke of Argyll appears to have cheerfully acquiesced in this proposal of Lord Hobart's, though he now says that he has not the slightest recollection of it. That he was likely to sanction the backsliding is not, however, inherently improbable, for he draws a fine cartoon of such men as Mr. Prinsep, Sir James Hogg, and Mr. Curry, all men who had spent thirty or forty years in India with hardly any leave, and who were never weary of describing to him at the India Office how in their time Lord Hastings never left Calcutta, but always conducted his business sitting in the very stiffest of chairs and dressed in the very stiffest of uniforms. From this grand picture of antique devotion to duty in a leather cravat and rectangular uniform, it is depressing to come down to the Duke of Argyll's airy declaration in their Lordships' House that "that might be all very fine for men of such constitutions as his, but times have wholly changed since the days of Lord Hastings." A change for the worse, the sorrowing citizen of Madras and Calcutta will say. "The work is enormously greater," says His Grace of Argyll. "Railways have been invented, and the distance from Simla is now comparatively nothing." "Call you that nothing, my Lord?" said James the Second on less provocation. Anyhow the Duke of Argyll did not refuse to sanction the proposal that Lord Hobart should spend six months in the hills, and now Mr. Grant Duff converts the six into nine, and does not conceal his opinion that no man in his senses would ever have made Madras a capital at all. Calcutta has two rivals—Darjeeling and Simla, and is doubly widowed each hot weather.

This is a hard case, but there is no help to be got from the House of Lords. Only two peers took up the case of the jilted capitals—Lord Napier and Ettrick and Lord Stanley of Alderley. On the other hand, the Secretary of State, the Duke of Buckingham, the Duke of Argyll, and the Marquis of Salisbury strongly pronounced in favour of the annual migration as salutary alike to governments and governed. Lord Napier and Ettrick made the most of the case for the Madras petitioners, who he pointed out represented all classes, races, and religions in the Presidency, the signatures being those of European, Hindoo, and Mussulman subjects of Her Majesty. This description of the Madras unanimity on the question is imposing, but it somehow loses substance when we learn that the "unusual harmony" was due to the grievance that the European, Hindoo, and Mussulman subjects aforesaid "saw too little of their Governor, and the remedy they proposed was that he should be instructed to live among them." Just as if all India had not been instructed before now that Madras had cultivated a special aversion for Mr. Grant Duff, and that he was the one man whose absence would, if an

(FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.)

CALCUTTA, DEC. 2.

Lord Ripon arrived this afternoon, and was accorded a great reception from the natives. Considerable effort had been made to decorate the streets all along the route from the Sealdah Station via Bowbazaar, Wellington-street, and Dharrumtollah. Venetian masts and festoons of [illegible] alternated with streamers of coloured [illegible] there were five triumphal arches of [illegible] with mottoes, such as "Long live our noble Viceroy," "Ripon for ever," "Think of us when far away," "Be just and fear not," "God save the Empress," "Ripon the Just," "Long live our Viceroy," "Righteousness exalteth a nation," "Poor India keep in view," etc. The natives along the line had done their best to [illegible] their shops and houses. The people [illegible] in new crowds and shouted as the [illegible] passed, and thronged in the streets [illegible] carrying banners proclaiming the [illegible] of Lord Ripon and shouting "Lord Ripon [illegible]."

It was entirely a native demonstration, as European [illegible] taking part in it. Great numbers of natives assembled at the station and received the Viceroy on his arrival with a "hooray," bands played "God save the Queen," and a guard of honour furnished by the Eastern Bengal State Railway Volunteers presented arms. The Maharajas of Durbhunga and the Mawab of Luckpore and many influential native gentlemen were present at the station. There was no reception committee [illegible] received the Viceroy, and briefly expressed pleasure at welcoming him back to [illegible] country. A number of neatly dressed native [illegible] strewed flowers in the Viceroy's path with flowers as he [illegible] the station. Lady Ripon was presented with a handsome bouquet. The procession occupied an hour in driving from the station, [illegible] stopping here and there. At one point two little girls presented bowls of [illegible] flowers to [illegible] and Lady Ripon.

At Government House a guard of honour of the Calcutta Volunteers, about 200 strong, was present, only the East Indian companies turning out in strength. Two members of the Mounted Company were present. The gathering assembled at Government House to receive the Viceroy consisted almost solely of Europeans, so far as officials were concerned. Feeling evidently is still strong against him amongst non-official Europeans.

(FROM THE INDIAN ASSOCIATION.)

CALCUTTA, DEC. 2.

There was a grand demonstration of the native community to-day in honour of the Viceroy. Over two hundred thousand people took part in it. On the platform were the Maharajas of Durbhunga and Vizianagram, and representative leading Calcutta families, including five hundred gentry comprising the talent, intellect, wealth, and the culture of the province. Girls presented bouquets to Lord and Lady Ripon. All along the route from Sealdah to Government House the streets were decorated with arches, banners, etc. The people scattered flowers and loudly cheered. Musical parties at intervals lined the route, and private institutions sent processions.

CAPTAIN G. O'B. CAREW, C. I. E., Deputy Director of the Indian Marine, was yesterday decorated with the jewel of the order of the Indian Empire. The ceremony took place at the Bombay dockyard, with which Captain Carew was associated for a considerable period. Captain Hext, R. N., the Director of the Indian Marine, made the investiture, announcing that the distinction had been conferred by Her Majesty in recognition of Captain Carew's excellent services. He congratulated the Deputy Director on the honour of which he was the recipient, and expressed his gratification at handing to him the decoration. The whole of the dockyard establishment, the builders', machinery, and factory departments, their heads as well as the employés, numbering between four and five hundred men, turned out to witness the ceremony. Captain Carew concluded his reply, [illegible] hearty cheers were given for the former superintendent of Marine. Captain Carew first joined the Indian Marine in 1846 on board the frigate Moosufer. In 1848 he was appointed to the Tapti, a brig engaged in service on the Malabar Coast. Here he remained about eighteen months, then taking on duty outside Bombay harbour on board the brig which used to accompany vessels in and out. In the course of his long period of service Captain Carew joined the steam frigate Semiramis and was on the China station for two-and-a-half years, chiefly engaged in the suppression of piracy. In 1854 he was promoted to mate, and whilst on the Zenobia received his lieutenancy. He was engaged in the Indian Mutiny and in the laying of the Persian sub-marine telegraph cable. On 1st February, 1861, he was made a captain. In 1867 he became Dockmaster of Bombay, and was as a head of department engaged in fitting up vessels for the Abyssinian war. Ten years later he was appointed officiating Superintendent of Marine, Transport Officer, and member of the Port Trust. In 1879 he permanently took up the appointment of Superintendent.

IN reference to a statement which occurred in a telegram from one of our correspondents with the Zhob Field Force, dated from Dalai, October 31, we are requested to state that the following is an accurate account of the attack which was made upon Lieutenant Wahab. That officer was, on the 23rd October, surveying in the Southern Hills, being accompanied by some cavalry and a company of sepoys under a native officer. His work being finished he had ridden away from the hills, and while clearing the spurs two miles or so from camp he came across Pathans firing on what turned out to be a body of some of the followers of Sir Robert Sandeman's native chiefs. Seeing horsemen coming down the pass, the Pathans turned and fired on them, and Lieutenant Wahab and his men had to run the gauntlet—his only footmen being those carrying his plane table &c. The statement that "the sepoys quickened their run by the aid of the sowars' stirrups" is denied.

We have been requested to state that all information regarding articles suitable to be forwarded to the World's Centennial Exhibition at New Orleans may be obtained at the United States Consulate, Bombay. All articles for exhibition or sale should be addressed to Mr. Charles S. Hill, Representative, Department of State, Washington, D.C., U.S.A.

THE royal censure like a bombshell has burst in the rank of high officials at Goa, and the truth is oozing out how the Papal Bull Humanum Genus found its way into the Official Boletim. The Archbishop did not forward officially, as he ought to have done, the Encyclical letter to be published in the Official Gazette. His Grace met by chance the superintendent of the press, to whom he communicated his wish to get a document published urgently, promising to send it in the next day arranged, a priest from the Archbishop took a scrawl of paper with the heading "Pastoral," and the superintendent put it into print without examining the document. The Chief Secretary to the Goa Government, who performs the duty of censor over official publications, received the final proof of the Bull, but as he was at the time suffering from fever and he saw the heading "Pastoral," he passed it without further notice. The Chief Secretary discovered when too late that he had been unconsciously permitting in the official organ the publication of the Encyclical letter of the Pope, instead of an Archbishop's Pastoral. It was impossible to repair the mistake, and the matter was dropped to avoid scandal. Now, as the Governor-General has been made the innocent victim of the Ministerial displeasure, the Chief Secretary has come forward to take the responsibility upon himself.

KURRACHEE has a grievance against the Bombay press. In former times, we are told, the Bombay papers used to deal lightly and jestingly with the ambitious capital of Sind. They would tell how the harbour was rapidly silting, and how boats had a difficulty in crossing the bar. But now matters have changed; and the Bombay papers, "which generally take the lead in enterprise and in able criticism," have completely overlooked the Governor's recent visit to Kurrachee. And why? The reason is obvious. Bombay is jealous of Kurrachee! At least that is what the Sind Gazette would have us believe. "We feel assured," says this oracle, "that the oversight is intentional, and, in our own mind, we do not hesitate for a moment as to the reason. Perhaps we put the matter most fairly by saying that the Bombay papers are forced in their own interests to ignore Kurrachee." Again:—"As long as they could deny the importance of Kurrachee, they did so freely; but now when it comes to the candid recognition of success in an unequal contest—of triumph, partial though it may be, over difficulties and doubts, Government neglect and interested detraction—they are silent. They have attempted to boycott Sind, and if we are none the worse on that account, it has not been the fault of our Bombay friends. The simple fact is that the success of Kurrachee is a thorn in the side of the trading community of Bombay, and the Bombay papers cannot afford to quarrel with their friends. They cannot deny that the Government has not treated, and is not treating Kurrachee with half the liberality and consideration which it is showing to the much older and wealthier ports of Bombay and Calcutta. And, at the same time, they cannot admit this much, or they would be flying in the face of the Bombay merchants; and so they pocket their opinions on the subject, and maintain a resolute silence." Considering the fact that the Bombay papers devoted columns of their space day after day to detailed accounts of the Governor's doings in Sind, all this is ridiculous nonsense.

IT is not probable that Lord Dufferin will make any stay at Allahabad on his way to Calcutta.

IT is announced that the Government of India have acquired, at the small expenditure of about Rs. 1,000, the whole of the scientific apparatus used by the English Cholera Commissioners in connection with the microbe. Thus a new series of experiments can be carried out in this country after their departure.

A HOME correspondent informs the Allahabad paper that the appointment of a Chief Commissary-General for all India is likely to be announced almost immediately. The arrangement would, the Pioneer takes it, apply to Bombay and Madras, as the principal Commissariat Officer of each Presidency retired. The Commissaries-General of Madras and Bombay each come into their off-reckonings at no distant date. "The pay of the new appointment is said to be Rs. 2,750 a month—not too much for such a responsible post—and the post will of course fall to Colonel Hunt, C. B., the present Commissary-General of Bengal. Fortunately Colonel Hunt is a distinguished officer, who is popular both as an individual and an official, and deserves to be."

THE same correspondent refers also to a new ambulance scheme as in prospect for India, at an annual cost of between four and five lakhs of rupees. Colonel Low is said to be responsible for the preparation of the details—they could hardly be in better hands. The scheme is spoken of as a good one, although exception is taken to what is considered some undue reduction in the establishment of Kahars.

IT is complained that strange expedients are resorted to in order to delay as much as possible the passing of the Bengal Tenancy Bill. At the preliminary meeting of the Committee last week a native member proposed that all the recent papers in connection with the Bill should be published in Bengali! Needless to say, the idea was at once scouted. "It is difficult," says the Pioneer, "to see what good end could have been served by such a publication, considering that the opposition is being mainly conducted by English-speaking zemindars, assisted by eminent lawyers, experienced English landholders, and—a Chief Justice. There is no end to the literature of the Tenancy Bill, it would seem. The Bengal Government are now about to publish a supplementary batch of papers which bear upon particular points. Among these will be Sir Richard Garth's first Minute, issued, we believe, in 1882, and pretty well known by this time. With this will appear the official Minutes, answering and practically demolishing it, by Mr. Justice O'Kinealy and Mr. A. Mackenzie. These two Minutes have never been made public."

IT is announced that the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway Company have lately reduced the freight for Indian teas over their line. This reduction, though somewhat tardily conceded, is none the less valuable. Hitherto the rates in force have been all in favour of the route from Saharunpur to Kurrachee, but the new tariff on the Oudh and Rohilkund Railway will now permit the planters of Kumaon and Dehra Dun to export their tea from Calcutta upon as reasonable terms as from Kurrachee.

THE cultivation of sorgho for sugar lately tried at the Nagpore Experimental Farm seems to have been a failure. It is, however, satisfactory to find that the failure is not due to defective soil or any unpreventible cause, as the following explanation will serve to show. Some excellent American sorgho seed was sent by the Government of India, which yielded a really splendid crop of stalks, but the proper time for crushing it was allowed to pass; and when the preparations for sugar-making were ready, only the smaller after-shoots were sufficiently juicy to be worth pressing, and of these again the greater portion was diseased. The result was that the syrup manufactured could not compare favourably with that manufactured at Cawnpore, although the same process was used in boiling the sugar with Cook's evaporator, and under the supervision of a professional from the Upper Provinces of India. The superintendent of the farm has therefore determined to give it another trial, for, if sorgho can be made to yield eatable sugar, it will play an important part in the agricultural produce of the Central Provinces, where, as a rule, irrigation is so difficult to provide, and the sugar-cane is so sparsely grown in consequence.

MR. RUSKIN'S distinction between Fancy and Imagination, with its illustrations from Milton and Shakespeare, is one of the most frequently quoted passages in his works. It is rather discouraging to be told by him now that the distinction is unnecessary. Fancy and imagination are differences in degree, not in kind. A young fellow who falls in love with a girl is correctly described as "taking a fancy" to her; but if he loved her rightly, he ought to be said to take an imagination to her. Altogether, the Professor had a good deal to say on this pleasing subject. He mentioned, for instance, that "one could look at a girl until he believed her an angel, because at her best she was one; but he could not look at a cockchafer until he believed it was a girl." That is the sort of way they lecture at Oxford in these days. It was not ever thus; as men who were "up" five-and-twenty years ago may reflect with regret.

FRENCH copper money, it seems, has been systematically bought and taken over to England. A napoleon in copper equals 200 "deux sous" pieces, which pass in England as 200 pence, or 16s 8d. But a napoleon may be bought for something less than 16s. English; thus 8½d. at least is the profit on every napoleon's-worth of French copper brought over, or nearly five per cent. Invest £94 10s. in French copper when "you go to Paris, and you will find that you have £100 in your pocket when you arrive in England, if you pass them pence and halfpence, as you can to any extent, and will have made a profit of £4 10s. by the transaction. A thousand pounds will produce £45 profit—not a bad business, if only you can do enough of it.

AMONGST the exhibits at the Philadelphia Electrical Exhibition is Professor Bell's radiaphone. Its function is to transmit speech by means of a ray of light, and without wire. It consists of a flat mirror, properly suspended, by means of which a ray of light is reflected through a cell containing alum-water, which absorbs the heat-rays, to a vibrating diaphragm about four feet distant. The diaphragm is itself a mirror, and reflects the ray back through a lens to a parabolic reflector, in the focus of which is a selenium cell, the terminals of which are connected with a magneto receiver. Connected with the back of the mirror-diaphragm is a flexible tube [illegible] mouthpiece. On talking into this tube, the mirror-diaphragm vibrates; the rays which it reflects through the lens into the parabolic reflector are thereby disturbed, and undergo modifications of intensity. These rays are forced upon the selenium cell, and their changes affect the current in the cell in the same way that a vibrating armature affects the induced current around the poles of a permanent magnet. This current from the selenium cell is carried through the back of the reflector to a hand receiver, and by holding this to the ear the speech is heard. It is said that Professor Bell has conveyed speech 500 ft. in this way by means of a strong ray of light.

MILITARY NEWS.

THE commands of two battalions of infantry compulsorily fall in during the present month, both of which are serving in the Bengal Presidency—that of the 2nd Battalion Scottish Rifles, the old 90th, and the 2nd Battalion Liverpool Regiment, the "King's" of olden days. Colonel Rogers, who commands the former, now at Cawnpore, completed his five-year tenure under old regulations on the 15th October, and so left regimental employ within seven weeks of 30 years' service at 50 years of age. His chances, however, of ever becoming a major-general on the Active List are poor, as he will come under the age clause at 55 years, whereas all those senior to him on the colonels' list can hold on till 59 up to next July, and 58 afterwards. Colonel Rogers's brevets of lieutenant-colonel and colonel are both of the same date, and the age clause is decided on the date of obtaining the former rank. The command of the battalion falls to Lieutenant-Colonel R. J. Ward, at present serving with it, and who has done so for close on 25 years, during which time he has been musketry instructor and adjutant. Prior to joining the army he served in the Navy, and was present at the siege and fall of Sebastopol and at the bombardment and capture of Kinburn. He is now only 42 years of age.

TELEGRAPHIC WEATHER REPORT.

CALCUTTA, DEC. 1.—The pressure is oscillating slowly from day to day. The general decrease in progress yesterday morning has since ceased, and has been succeeded by a general increase, which has been felt at almost all stations, except a few in the south of Madras and south of the eastern peninsula. In the south-east corner of the Bay the barometer is still unsteady. The wind is variable in the Punjab, Rajputana, and the upper parts of the North-West Provinces. It is northerly in the lower parts of the North-West Provinces and in a large part of Bengal. It is generally north-easterly to easterly elsewhere. At Madura and Trichinopoly, however, the wind is north-westerly. The weather is overcast at Sibsagar and Wellington, and is somewhat clouded at several Carnatic stations. It is clear elsewhere. There is no rain reported to-day.

PROPOSED MEMORIAL TO THE LATE PROFESSOR FAWCETT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—The death of the Right Hon. Henry Fawcett has deprived India of a staunch and disinterested friend. I need not remind my countrymen of the great interest the honourable gentleman took in the welfare of India. All his kindly exertions, undertaken with purely benevolent motives, are too well known for me to recount here. Trusting to their knowledge of his deeds, and the gratitude always shown to deserving men by the natives of India, I appeal to them to aid me in my humble efforts to raise a suitable memorial to the deeply lamented gentleman.

It is the desire of many here in England that the memorial should be attached to Trinity Hall, Cambridge, where the deceased gentleman was educated and raised to a fellowship, which he held to the last. Besides, it was in Cambridge that he studied, lived, and died; and it is Cambridge that has the honour of retaining his mortal remains. The Rev. H. Latham, M. A., the head-tutor of Trinity Hall, has consented to give every facility to further the object of the memorial, which might take the shape of a statue, oil-painting, or scholarship, as the subscribers deem fit.

I hope and trust that my brethren will as usual heartily join with me, and give another instance of their gratitude. India will not only be discharging her obligation but will be giving a fresh impetus to other Englishmen to strive for her welfare. A subscription has already been started among the natives of India resident in England, any contribution towards which will be gratefully received and duly acknowledged.—I am, &c.,

LOVJI M. WADIA.

THE UNCOVENANTED SERVICE.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Anent the letter which appeared in your issue of Saturday last, it must be disappointing to the members of the Uncovenanted Service to think no notice has been taken as yet in reference to the numerous memorials sent to the Government of India. But I would call the attention of all interested in the service to the new leaves (just issued) for the Marine Department as per Marine circular No. 16, dated Simla, 1st November, 1884. In it, I think, perhaps we may see a ray of hope; for it would be quite an anomaly to give one set of servants the privileges mentioned therein and withhold them from the service generally. Some of the privileges granted are one year's furlough after five years' service, and the same for every succeeding five years' service; furlough to count for pension; study leave of one month each year, if services can be spared; six months' general leave on full pay, which can be granted by the Director of Marine, after every two years' service, the same to count for service for pension; a non-official passage in a troop ship, if available, for all drawing under Rs. 1,000 per mensem. But let those who are interested get a copy of this circular and see for themselves, and in due course, I think, we shall have fair grounds to ask the Government to apply the above rules to all uncovenanted servants.

NATIVE MECHANICS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Your local contemporary, in its leader anent the meeting of Saturday, says that it believes it to be "a fact that not a single native engineer, not even a Parsee, is able to erect the mill machinery that comes out from England." I wish the writer had taken the trouble to ascertain the fact before making such a sweeping assertion, and not founded it on mere belief. I know it for a fact that there are in Bombay Parsee and other native gentlemen who have erected, and can erect, mill machinery coming from England. The largest engines manufactured in England have been lately erected in Bombay by a Mahomedan engineer with success, and without any help from any European, hoping you will give a corner to the foregoing in justice to native mechanics, I am, &c.,

ALLY MAHOMED BHIMJEE.

It removes all unpleasant odour arising from decayed teeth or tobacco smoke. LORD RIPON'S RETIREMENT—A SUGGESTION.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE "BOMBAY GAZETTE."

SIR,—Kindly allow me a little space in your columns for a suggestion which I hope will be warmly taken up by those to whom it is made. After reading the accounts in the daily papers of Lord Ripon's visits to the leading schools and colleges of Northern India, it has struck me that the receptions there accorded to him might easily be surpassed in Bombay, at least, by the college from which I hail. It will be remembered that St. Xavier's was the first educational establishment in India that received Lord Ripon within its halls, and as the leading private school in this city it ought to take a prominent part in the farewell demonstrations attendant upon the departure of the present Viceroy. There must be about three thousand past and present students of St. Xavier's College in Bombay, and they might easily muster in sufficient strength to give a splendid ovation to the statesman who has laboured so earnestly in the cause of education in India. Lord Ripon will unfortunately arrive in Bombay too late to be present at the distribution of prizes in St. Xavier's, but he would doubtless accept an invitation to the college for the purpose of receiving a farewell address from the pupils of the institution which he praised so highly a few years ago. If all the old Xaverites in Bombay were to turn out for the occasion, reinforced by the pupils of St. Mary's, the sight would certainly be a grand one, completely eclipsing anything of the kind yet seen in this part of India, or perhaps in any other. What I mean to propose, therefore, is this, that all of us who have been in St. Xavier's and St. Mary's too, of all ages, races, and creeds should combine together to testify our admiration for Lord Ripon and his noble endeavours to promote education in his country, and I have no doubt it would gratify him much to witness such a spectacle as might be afforded by the assemblage of several generations of the alumni of one of the largest private colleges in India. I shall be happy if I find this suggestion cordially responded to. It is an easy one to carry out, and if acted upon will redound greatly to the credit of my old alma mater, which is in a manner bound to wish godspeed to the Viceroy whom she has once before honoured to the best of her ability.
